An apothecary is not a "Gazetted Officer". He is an upper subordinate. The draft notification will have to be altered - Suppose an Hospl assit is posted to Hunsur. He should have the same power I think. Please also see the Senior Surgeon's reply of 12.6.06 which is carefully worded.

1 It is the Senior Surgeon (in the letter referred to by the Councillor) who refers to Apothecaries under Gazetted Officers, & it is because they are not Gazetted Officers that I omitted them from the draft notification. If it is, however, desired to extend the choice beyond Gazetted Medical Officers, all that is necessary is to substitute for the 4 lines Gazetted medical Officer of not less than 9 years' standing & lines medical Officer of 9 or more years' standing or above the grade of Hospital Assistant and including an Apothecary." Draft notification & noted for approval.

2 Before issuing the notification it is better to consult the Senior Surgeon if he has any objection to Hospital Assistants being empowered to issue certificates. If he agrees, the words "including an apothecary" will become unnecessary as apothecaries are above the Hospital Assistant grade.

I fear that hospital assistants, as a rule, are not fit for such duties. Where there is no Gazetted officer or apothecary locally available, I think it would be necessary to requisition the services of ~~an officer~~ a properly qualified officer from the Headquarters of the district. I included "apothecaries" amongst officers properly qualified for such duties, as their training amounts to practically the same as that of ~~students~~ studying for the L.M.S. degree.

To B. K. Venkataravada Iyengar Esq
Secretary to the Government,
General and Revenue Department

Sir,

Referring to section 5 of the Mysore Factories Regulation (no IV of 1892) I have the honor to state that except the Civil Surgeon, no other Medical Officer is appointed as certifying Surgeons. So far as the District Head Quarter is concerned, no difficulty will be experienced in obtaining the certificates provided in that section But in a mofussil place like Hunsur where a factory has to be registered by me from the 1st of April (Vide my letter no: 929 dated 22nd March 1906) it is necessary that a local medical officer should be authorized to grant the certificates required under the Factories Regulation.

2 An apothecary is placed in charge of the Dispensary

Dispensary at Hunsur. If there be no objection I think he may be appointed a certifying Surgeon for the place.

I have the honor to be
